SKELETONS FOUND IN GAULT HOUSE RUINS

Human Bones Discovered After Donaldson Fire May Be Those of Murder Victims

The finding of two human skeletons
in the smoldering ruins of the Gault hotel at Donaldson has furnished for the residents of that vicinity a mystery which the authorities are exerting every effort to unearth.

Are these bones the remains of two unfortunates who were murdered in cold blood and their bodies buried beneath the building to conceal the crime? This is the question that confronts the minds of all people since they have learned of the gruesome discovery.

The Gault hotel was destroyed by fire last Wednesday morning. A search through the ruins revealed the two skeletons. The bones were in a fairly good state of preservation although it is the supposition that they had been there many years.
Sheriff Hanson of Vilas county was immediately notified and is now conducting an investigation of the affair.
This is rather a difficult undertaking
as the authorities have little material to work on. If the skeletons are those of murder victims there is absolutely no clue that would lead to the detection of the ones responsible for the crime.

The hotel was a plain two story wooden structure erected in the early days of Donaldson and was one of the familiar landmarks of that village.
When logging operations were extensively conducted in that section the Gault hotel was liberally patronized by woodsmen. A saloon was run in connection and the bar did a big business.

Woodsmen, who make their headquarters in Rhinelander, and who at one time worked near Donaldson, say that to their knowledge the Gault hotel was always a quiet orderly place and was never the scene of any serious trouble or disturbances. Men with large sums of money on their clothing have been known to frequent the house but were never molested.

Stories of men disappearing under mysterious circumstances have never been reported at Donaldson.

At the time of the fire the Gault hotel was occupied by A. O. Ireland, Northwestern station agent at Donaldson. It was his intention to convert the building into a summer hotel and general store.

BURNED BY GASOLINE EXPLOSION

Harry Kellar of Lake Street Is Victim of Fecular Accident

Harry Kellar was seriously burned in a gasoline explosion at his home on Lake Street, Tuesday.

The accident was an unusual one.
A glass jar containing the gasoline rested on a window sill and became heated by contact with the sun. Kellar was about to throw the jar out doors when the explosion occurred.
The flaming oil immediately ignited
his clothing and it was only by quick removal of the garments that the young man probably saved himself from being fatally burned. A fire started in the house but was extinguished before any damage had been done.

Kellar's arms and the upper portion of his body are affected the worst
and he suffers intense pain. Dr. S.
Stone is caring for him.

SHOULD HAVE BEEN ARBUTUS

The school children of Wisconsin have voted the violet as the official state flower. In the opinion of many people the trailing arbutus should have been given this honor as it is really the prettiest and most fragrant of all the wild flowers growing in the state. Furthermore the arbutus is a native flower being found only in Wisconsin and a few of the eastern states.
As for the violet it is a flower of which there are several varieties common in many parts of the country.

OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY

At the M. E. Church, Sunday evening, exercises were conducted in observance of the twentieth anniversary of the founding of the Epworth League society. The program was an interesting one and heard by a large audience. Rev. S. J. Tink, pastor, delivered an appropriate address to the young people and Miss Raymond read a well prepared paper on the origin and growth of the society.
There was also new music by the choir.

MONEY FOR WORTHY INDIANS

Government Will Not Deprive Them of Monthly Allowance

Some weeks ago The New North
stated that the reservation Indians were to be deprived of their monthly allowance of ten dollars from the government. This was in accordance to an order issued by the Indian Department. Since then the order has been somewhat modified as the following article from the Ashland Press
would indicate:

Sanborn, Lamoureux & Pray received a letter from Senator Stephenson this morning in which the junior senator enclosed two recent orders of the Indian Department reference to the order issued in March cutting off the regular monthly allowance to the Indians. The new order provides for the Indians to be classified into two classes, the dependants and those who are wholly capable of supporting themselves and their families. Those who belong to the first class will continue to get aid from the department and the department will be if anything more liberal than before with this class. The other class will get no aid. The department has also provided for an inquiry among all Indians to determine who are capable of handling their own money and property, the view of the department being to give the Indian providing he is found competent, more money and property to handle. The department also issued a circular stating that after July 1, no orders will be issued for merchandise after the goods are purchased, that the order must be secured before goods are bought.

MANY CLERGYMEN ATTEND MEETING

District Congregational Convention
Held In Rhinelander—Rev. Grant
Clark Installed As Pastor

The seventeenth annual convention of the Northeastern district of Congregational churches met with the Rhinelander church Wednesday and Thursday of last week.

There were twenty-five delegates
and visiting clergymen present.
Some of the addresses given were of a high order. The last evening of the convention session was given up to the service installing Rev. Grant Clark as pastor of the First Congregational church of Rhinelander.
This service was very impressive, nine clergymen taking part in it. The charge to the pastor was given by Rev. J. E. Sarles, pastor of the Congregational church at Antigo. The charge to the people was given by Rev. A. G. Wilson of Plymouth. This address was replete with happy suggestions, couched in language remarkable for its terseness.

The convention was very successful and at the close it was decided to hold the next meeting at Park Falls in May, 1910. The clergymen present were Rev. Julius Marks, Park Falls;
Rev. C. W. Pinkney, Eagle River;
Rev. W. C. Hitchcock, Ashland; Rev.
H. W. Carter, Beloit; Rev. S. N. Dexter, Ripon; Rev. C. J. Jensen, Wausau; Rev. J. E. Sarles, Antigo; Rev.
C. E. Goldthorpe, Clintonville; Rev.
A. H. Zechel, Appleton; Rev. F. W.
Heberlein, Tomahawk; Rev. A. G.
Wilson, Plymouth.

Aside from the pastors there were also delegates from nearly all of the above mentioned cities. The visitors were entertained at the homes of different members of the congregation.
Every provision was made for their comfort and enjoyment. They were given auto rides about the city visiting all places of interest. Many of the delegates were on their first visit to Rhinelander and expressed surprise
at the size and activity of the city.

Park Falls, the place selected for the next convention, is one of the smallest towns in the district.

FAVOR FREE LUMBER

After a discussion which occupied the larger part of an hour last Thursday the assembly adopted the Lentz joint resolution memorializing congress to remove the tariff on lumber. Mr.
Whittet took exception to the statement of Mr. Stevens that a combination existed among the retail lumber dealers of the state. The former said he had served as president of the retail dealer's association and absolutely knew there was no effort made to regulate prices.

Justice John Barnes of the State Supreme Court greeted old friends in Rhinelander, Tuesday.

RHINELANDER WINS FROM THE INDIANS

Score 20 to 5—Team Makes Satisfactory Showing in First Game
of Season

By a score
of 20 to 5
Parker's
Colts defeated the Lac du
Flambeau Indians in the first base ball game played in Rhinelander this season.

Although
the weather
was not perfect, the day being
chilly and windy, yet a large crowd
of fans gathered at the fair grounds to witness the game. This fact shows the deep interest taken in the great national sport in this city and further assures that the team will be given liberal patronage throughout the entire season providing it plays good ball. From all indications it appears that Rhinelander with the present line-up of players will be able to hold its own with the majority of teams that will be met this summer.

Sunday's game was a one sided affair as is usually the case when the red skins play here. The game opened with Esselburn in the box. He appeared to be in his old time form but only pitched four innings after which he was relieved by Deakin.
Deakin also proved to the crowd that his wing was in good working order.
All the new men showed up well and the fans seemed satisfied that they will make good. Williams as catcher did excellent work back of the bat. Burbage at third, which is not his regular position, made a likely showing. Roach at short pleased the fans by his all around playing.
Haskins at second, although a stranger, did nicely and gave evidence that he is not new on the diamond. The antics of Hastus Johnson, the first baseman, furnished plenty of fun and kept the crowd in laughter.

The outfielders, left and center, were taken care of by the two old standbys Shean and Sohr. The position of right field has not yet been filled and Carl, as sub did the stunt.

The team in general looks upstrong and there is no reason why it should not rank high in the percentage column at the close of the season.

RONEY'S BOYS PLEASE

It is seldom that Rhinelander people are afforded the opportunity to hear such a rare musical treat as was the concert given by Roney's Boys at the Grand Opera House last evening.

The boys, five in number, possess remarkably sweet voices and their songs delighted the audience. It was necessary for them to respond to repeated encores.

The boys range in age from twelve to fourteen years and have been trained under the direction of Prof.
Roney who accompanies them on the tour.

HENRY H. ROGERS DEAD

Henry H. Rogers, one of the standard oil kings, died suddenly yesterday at his home at New York City.
The news of the noted financier's death did not create any unexpected furry in stock dealings in Wall St.
He was one of the greatest trust
builders of modern times.

REWARD STRAUB AND VAUGHAN

Government Sends Them $50 Each for Arresting Donnergast

Maurice Straub, chief of police, and Lynn Vaughan, former under-sheriff of Oneida county, have each received from Chief Wilke of the government secret service a check for fifty dollars.
This is in recognition of the assistance rendered by them in the capture of Adolph, Hugo and Rudolph Donnergast, counterfeiters, near this city on the 8th and 9th of last August.

The services of the officers were requested by Capt. T. J. Porter of the secret service who lead the party in arresting the counterfeiters. It was only by the success of a clever ruse that the brothers were taken without difficulty.

Although no reward had been offered for the Donnergasts, Capt.
Porter promised the Rhinelander officers that the government would recompense them for their efforts.
Later, Chief Straub and Mr. Vaughan received a personal letter from Chief Wilke in which he complimented them for the part they took in the arrest of the counterfeiters and promised them that they would be properly rewarded. Having heard nothing of the matter for several months the officers began to think that the government had forgotten them but such proved not the case.

LIQUOR BILL WOULD MAKE DEALERS FREE

Measure Provides That Saloon Men
Must Run Business Independent
Of Manufacturers

A new and drastic liquor bill was reported in by committee last Thursday. It provides that it shall be unlawful for any person, corporation or association engaged in the manufacture of malt, spirituous or vinous liquors, any agent, employee or representative of such person, corporation or association to be interested either directly or indirectly, under any pretext whatsoever, in the application for or the procuring of a license for any person to sell liquors at retail. It also makes it unlawful for any manufacturer to in any manner become interested in the retail traffic or to rent
to a retailer except for a cash consideration and without any agreement to sell or keep for sale the product of the manufacturer, any such agreement rendering the lease void and the rent uncollectable. The penalty for violations is made not less than $50
nor more than $2500.

CLERKS TO PLAY ZEBRAS

A base ball game will be played on the fair grounds diamond Sunday between the Clerks and the Zebras.

The Zebras are the barbers of the city and Dr. Elliot is the manager.
They acquire their name from the fact that they wear suits striped like a barber pole.

Dr. Elliot says he has a team that will show the clerks how base ball is played at Owen Sound, Ontario. All that the Clerks say is, "far be it from so."

Following are the line-ups of the two teams: Clerks—Second-pitcher; Markham-catcher; Liebenstein-first base; Stierwright-second base; Klock-third base; Louis Bellile-short stop; Taggart-left field; Henchess-center field; Melroe-right field.

Zebras—Kincaid-pitcher; Nelson-catcher; Ingersoll-first base; Forsyth-second base; Krueger-third base;
Hartley-short stop; Hinners-left field;
Dusel's Sam-center field; Wiedemanright field.

FROM NEARBY TOWNS

New London—David Allender, a resident of Northport, claims the distinction of being the first white boy born in Milwaukee. He also states that his mother was the first white woman to locate there. Mr. Allender knew Solomon Juneau personally and tells many entertaining stories regarding him.

Crandon—The sum of $1400 due teachers in the city schools has not been paid owing to the failure of the recently elected treasurer, Aaron Ison to qualify. Harry Poppe, the former treasurer, will not turn the funds over to his successor and at the same time refuses to pay the orders. Many hold that Poppe is treasurer until Ison qualifies and according to law is duty bound to honor the orders.

Grand Rapids—Frank Remier, Louis Haydock and Eugene Crottian while working near the mill of the Grand Rapids Pulp and Paper company, lost control of the boat and were carried over the dam and through the rapids, but escaped without injury.

Ashland—The 1910 state convention of the Knights of Columbus will be held at Ashland on the 11th and 12th of next May. The convention was secured through the efforts of F. S. Dhooge and Joe Fitzgerald, two boosters from the Ashland lodge, in attendance at the state convention just closed at Appleton.

Ladysmith—Preparations are now being made for the State Fireman's Tournament to be held in this city June 23 to 25. The soliciting committee has completed the first installment of subscriptions amounting to $750. This sum with an appropriation of $600 from the state will be distributed in prizes. A carnival company will appear during the tournament. An immense crowd is expected.

Tomahawk—An old log building used one time as the depot for the Wisconsin & Chippewa railway has been torn down. The building was built in 1897 and was one of the familiar landmarks of Tomahawk.

Crandon—The Commercial Automobile club, an organization composed of North Crandon citizens intends to place in operation an automobile passenger line between Crandon and North Crandon and Hills. Three big touring cars manufactured by the Pontiac Motor company will be put into service. Those interested in the scheme believe it will prove a financial success.

Merrill—The American Hide and Leather company is making improvements to its tannery plant here indicating that the company intends to remain in Merrill. The capacity of the plant will be increased from 150 to 192. Mr. Gaylor, manager, says the market is becoming brighter for the plant's output and the shipping department is very busy.

Washburn—The large brown stone quarries at Houghton just above this city will be opened up for business in the course of a few days. Already large orders are coming in for stone and a large crew will be put on as soon as the ground dries up and the rock can be gotten out.

Ashland—H. J. Wacmuth, recently elected chairman of Bayfield county, has purchased a press and other publishing apparatus and type and will establish a weekly paper at Bayfield.

The name of the paper has not been decided upon.

Merrill—Frank Strauss, who escaped from the Lincoln county jail, was recaptured late Thursday night by Sheriff Maas at Gilbert. Strauss is charged with robbing a saloon cash register.

Wausau—Wausau has been benefited through the removal of trains No. 4 and 5 on the Wisconsin Central line between Stevens Point and Chippewa Falls, as many of the residents of Junction City come to Wausau to do their shopping instead of going to Stevens Point. Many traveling salesmen pass through from Marshfield and take the St. Paul train to Grand Rapids, where formerly they would leave Marshfield on the Wisconsin Central branch to Grand Rapids.

WOMEN'S WOES

Rhineland Women are Finding Relief at Last.

It does seem that women have more than a fair share of the aches and pains that afflict humanity; they must "keep up," must attend to duties in spite of constantly aching backs, or headaches, dizzy spells, bearing down pains; they must stoop over, when to stoop means torture. They must walk and bend and work with racking pains from many kidney ills. Kidneys cause more suffering than any other organ of the body. Keep the kidneys well and health is easily maintained. Read of a remedy for kidneys only that helps and cures the kidneys and is endorsed by people you know.

Mrs. Perkins, of 33 Mercer St., Rhineland, Wis., says: "I am glad to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as I know them to be worthy of praise. My trouble was not of a serious nature but I was annoyed at times by a weakness of the kidneys. I also had severe headaches and felt dull and languid. Learning of Doan's Kidney Pills I procured a box at Reardon's drug store and found relief in a short time. Other members of my family have taken this remedy with the same good results."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

FISH FOR EAGLE WATERS

State Now Hatching Out Spawns at Otter Rapids Station.

The state fish hatchery has established a try out station at the Otter Rapids dam, Eagle River, and is now stripping game fish and hatching out the spawn, which as it ripens, will be distributed throughout the Eagle River chain of inland lakes.

Found nets have been lowered and raised in the pool below the dam to strip the game fish, pike, bass and muskellunge of their eggs, which will be hatched out in tanks in the power house where electricity will be used to charge the water in the tanks for the hatching. The fish after being stripped, will be put in the river above the dam.

When the dam at Otter Rapids was built there was no provision made for a fishway, and fish have been unable to get into the chain of lakes above the dam. The state fish commission has now made a demand that the town place a fishway in the dam, using the log slide.

BODY OF BENEDICT FOUND

Man Who Disappeared From Woodruff Probably Died From Exposure.

The body of William Benedict, who disappeared from Woodruff, four weeks ago, was found last Friday within forty rods of the state fish hatchery buildings near Minocqua.

Benedict was a woodsman who had made his home about this part of the state for many years. He left Woodruff for the purpose of securing work in a nearby logging camp but failed to arrive there. While wandering about in the vicinity of the fish hatchery, friends came across his remains which were badly decomposed. Two empty whisky flasks were in the pockets of his coat. It is the opinion that Benedict while in a state of temporary insanity due probably to an over indulgence in liquor, became lost and died from exposure. There were no marks of any kind on the body.

It was necessary for the county to bear the expense of burial.

There will be a saloon "blacklist" for Milwaukee again this year. A year ago about seventy saloons were forced out of business by the license committee for not running better places, and the ax is going to fall on several more this year. This is a good lesson for smaller towns. It has been the custom in Rhineland to license everything that asked. We hope the policy will change this year. Of course it largely depends on the action of the license committee.

The resolution introduced by Alderman Pecor at the last meeting of the council forbidding a license to all saloons which are not entirely independent of the breweries in control and management is along the line of a bill introduced at Madison last week the substance of which is on the front page of this issue. Of course the Pecor resolution is nothing so drastic as the bill and still the resolution received the vote of but two members of the council.

It is time that a definite annual appropriation were fixed on the University of Wisconsin sufficient to run the institution commensurate with the demands made upon it without forcing the entire executive head of the school to spend a large part of the time of the legislative session convincing the legislature that it takes a large amount of money to run a large and growing university.

The benefits of the University of Wisconsin reach out to all classes. Its good is too vast to be measured by dollars and cents and the work should not be crippled for lack of funds.

Those who have looked into its history are well aware that its lands have been plundered by past legislatures. Had the lands given to Wisconsin University been kept today the income from sale would be all sufficient to supply all its needs. Then for two reasons the State University should be well provided for, first for the great good it does all the classes, second we owe the institution more than it gets because of the profligate disposal of its lands by past legislatures.

The Sorrowful Tree.

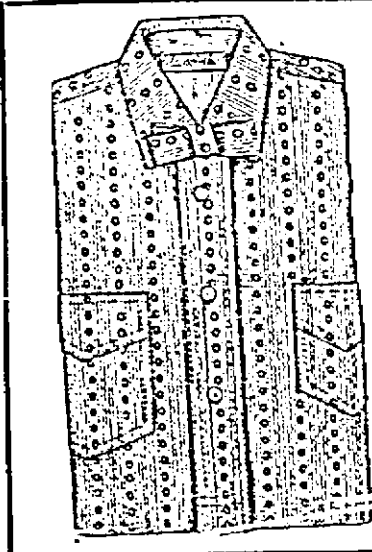

There is a tree in Persia to which the name "the sorrowful tree" is given, perhaps because it blooms only in the evening. When the first star appears in the heavens, the first bud of the sorrowful tree opens, and as the shades of night advance and the stars thickly stud the sky the buds continue gradually opening until the whole tree looks like one immense white flower. On the approach of dawn, when the brilliancy of the stars gradually fades in the light of day, the sorrowful tree closes its flowers, and ere the sun is fully risen not a single blossom is visible. A sheet of flower dust as white as snow covers the ground around the foot of the tree, which seems blighted and withered during the day, while, however, it is actively preparing for the next nocturnal festival. The fragrance of the blossoms is like that of the evening primrose. If the tree is cut down close to the roots a new plant shoots up and attains maturity in an incredibly short time. In the vicinity of this singular tree there usually grows another, which is almost an exact counterpart of the sorrowful tree, but less beautiful, and, strange to say, it blooms only in the daytime.

I think myself that what, as much as anything else, laid the foundation of the American voice was the nervous ill health, lasting over three or four generations, of the American woman. Up to the middle of the nineteenth century and even beyond foreigners were surprised when they came across a healthy looking woman. The isolation of frontier life, the general tenacity of the American climate, malaria, bad diet and worse sanitation combined to turn one-half the nation into semi-invalids, and the thin, sharp, slovenly, staccato tones of the American women were as often as not the result of physical and nervous depression. I do not say that ill health was the sole cause, but it is undoubtedly the fact that as the health of Americans has improved, so have their voices.—London Standard.

Beautiful Spanish Dancer Gives Praise to Pe-ru-na.

NERVOUS prostration is usually the result of a vacation which requires a continual strain on the nervous system. In such cases it would be wise if a change of vacation could be made. But this is not always possible and a good tonic becomes a necessity. Peruna is a tonic that invigorates without producing a drug habit.

Peruna is not a beverage nor a bitter, but an honest, straightforward tonic that increases the appetite and encourages digestion. There is a great demand for tonics during the depressing heat of summer, and especially in countries where hot weather is very prevalent. Such a demand is exactly met by Peruna.

Miss Pilar Monterde Praises Peruna as a Tonic.

A letter sent to the Peruna Drug Mfg. Co., from the popular Spanish dancer, Miss Pilar Monterde, is as follows:

Teatro Principal, City of Mexico, Nov. 3, 1905.

Gentlemen: Having used your justly celebrated remedy, "La Peruna," for some time, I have the pleasure of informing you that I consider it the best tonic I have ever used.

It is a wonderful fortifier of the nerves after exhaustion and it increases the vitality of the whole body, and in my own case has produced the most complete and permanent restoration. It is also pleasant to the taste.

I do not hesitate, therefore, to recommend this remedy to all women as the best and most pleasant tonic that they can possibly take.

Yours very truly, (Miss) P. Monterde.

ROOSEVELT OR MODERN HIAWATHA

Mid the far off gloom of Afra,
Mid the jungles, and the wildwood,
Mid the many lakes and marshes,
Under great trees—limbs all tangled
With the vines, and crawling serpents:
Walks the great undaunted Roosevelt,
Walks the hero of the "Big stick"
With a rifle on his shoulder,
And a peaceful mind within him.
With a stenographic escort
Armed with pencils, pads and camera,
After big game like their leader.
For the folks at home are longing
For a glimpse of the great hunter,
Of the man who meets so bravely
With a rifle to his shoulder
All the fierce attacks of wild beasts;
Of the lion, and the tiger,
Of the elephant all raging,
And the horde of fighting monsters
That throng living in the jungles.
With his finger on the trigger,
And his eye along the fine sights.
Then a flash, and deafening thunder
Bringing death and quick destruction
To the animals before him.
Thus walks the undaunted Roosevelt
He who was the dove of peace once.
Now does war upon the many,
And kills them that never harmed
him.

Most Deadly of African Fevers.
We often hear of the African fever, or jungle fever. But speak of the fever to the man who has been in the regions where it prevails and he will tell you that it is more feared by the explorer than the most dangerous animal. There is a malarial fever that the African mosquito will put into you with its bite. It may stay in you six or seven years, but you can finally get rid of it by proper treatment. But the black water fever of German East Africa comes on you and catches you when you may think the trouble is only a little malaria. Unless there is a physician in the party who knows its signs the man who is stricken with it seldom comes back in the civilized world alive.—Van Norden Magazine.

The annual tax sale is now in progress in the office of county treasurer Krueger. The sale was to have taken place Tuesday but was postponed until today.

RUSSIANS WANTED CHEAP RIDE

Twelve Russian immigrants alighted from a box car in the Soo yards in this city, the other day. They were on their way to the west from New York City.

One of the men, who could speak a little English, said that they were placed in the box car at Sault Ste. Marie by a man to whom they each gave one dollar on the promise of through passage to Minneapolis. The man was evidently a tramp who took advantage of an opportunity to fleece the poor foreigners.

The car was side tracked in this city and the occupants remained inside for several hours before venturing out. Pat Gleason, railroad policeman, looked after the Russians until the arrival of the west bound Soo limited when they resumed their journey toward the land of promise.

TOWN NEAR WATERSMEET

Charles Jaeger, a young carpenter of this city, has been fortunate in securing the contract for erecting all the buildings that are to be used by the William Boniface Lumber company at their new town near Watersmeet. In addition to several cottages, there will have to be built a saw mill, boarding house and general store and it is thought that it will take ten months to get all the work completed. When Mr. Jaeger leaves for Watersmeet he will take with him all the carpenters that he can secure, for it is the wish of the officers of the company that the work be carried out with the utmost dispatch. Mr. Jaeger is to be congratulated in landing so important a commission.—Escanaba Mirror.

A FINE SAW MILL

Frank Bryant spent last Friday at Goodman. While there he inspected the new plant of the Goodman Lumber Company and says it is the finest saw mill he has ever seen. The mill is constructed entirely of iron, steel and concrete and is absolutely fire proof. It is equipped with the latest improved machinery. According to present calculations the mill will be completed and ready for operation about the middle of June.

PERINIER GETS CONTRACT

Sam Perinier, the well known contractor of this city, has been awarded the contract for building the new addition to the school house at Monticello. Mr. Perinier is a first class builder and the Monticello people will be pleased with his work.

He has also secured the contract for the wood work on the new planing mill of the Pelican River Lumber Company.

WILL TEACH ELSEWHERE

Miss Helen Sedgewick, one of the teachers in the High school, has been engaged to teach next year in the schools of Everett, Wash., at a salary of $100 per month.

Arthur Richardson, teacher of history and civics in the Rhineland High school, has been offered a similar position in the Antigo High school for next year at $95 per month salary. Mr. Richardson will no doubt accept the offer as the salary is a considerable increase over what he is now receiving.

VANDALS MOLEST GRAVES

People who have loved ones resting in Forest Home cemetery in this city complain that the graves are frequently molested. Flower vases have been stolen and plants ruined by unknown parties who seem to take delight in these acts of vandalism. A person who would commit such depredations in the city of the dead is nothing less than a fiend and the law provides no punishment that is too severe for him.

A Postal Romance.

By M. QUAD.

(Copyright, 1908, by T. C. McClure.)

Inspector Graham of the postal service happened to be at Chestnut Grove at the time the postmistress died, and he took charge of the office and did what he could in other directions. The deceased had left two daughters, one twelve and one eighteen. Squire Davis and two or three others scarcely waiting the burial of the widow before planning for the postmastership and involving the aid of the inspector. This they did not receive, however. He promptly recommended Bessie, the eldest daughter, for the place, and she was shortly appointed.

For the next year the postoffice at Chestnut Grove was the best conducted of any on the inspector's route. Not the slightest fault could be found in any direction. Had the inspector visited the office four times in the year he would have covered his instructions, but his calls were made much oftener.

Before the year was up Miss Bessie had to admit to herself that the inspector was showing something besides official interest, and the knowledge embarrassed and pained her. She had learned that he was free to marry. And why all these visits if he was not in love with her? The girl had a secret. It was a secret from the inspector only, and she trembled every time he came for fear that he would discover it. A dozen different village gossips could have betrayed that secret, but they had not been encouraged to talk. Squire Davis had often had it at his tongue's end, but had checked himself and said:

"Not a word from me. I said there would be a scandal, and there will be."

The girl postmistress had entered upon her second official year, and Inspector Graham had arrived to pay one of his semi-social calls, when he was met by a storm of excitement. He had been doing a great deal of thinking during the past three months. He had satisfied himself that he was really and truly in love with Bessie and wanted her for a wife, and he believed that he had found favor in her eyes. On this occasion he meant to tell his love and know his fate.

"This is what has happened," said Squire Davis, who was the first to meet him as he stepped off the cars. "A registered letter containing $50 for me has been lost in the mail."

"But Miss Jordan couldn't have taken your letter," protested the surprised and perturbed inspector.

"Mebbe not, but what about that fellow who's been hanging around there for a year?"

The inspector was an official now instead of a friend. He at once got to work on the trail of the missing letter, and before night he assured himself that it had actually passed through the office at Sand Hill, which was next on the east. This being so, it must have arrived at Chestnut Grove. The night of its arrival was a very stormy one, and there was no one in after mail until long after it had been distributed. Inspector Graham sat in the office and thought it out and knew that the letter had arrived and been taken. He could not bring himself to believe that Miss Bessie was the thief, and yet it hurt him to think that it might have been taken by another—the young man to whom Squire Davis had alluded. The girl had had a lover for a year past and had concealed the fact from him. It didn't occur to him that it was her right and that he had really no business to know, but he felt that an injury had been done him. There was but one way out of the business, and he took it. As he called the postmistress in he was more of the official than he had ever been.

"Miss Jordan," he began, "did Henry Williams assist you to distribute the mail on the evening of the 15th?"

"Yes," she replied as her face went white.

"And Henry Williams took the letter. You know he did."

"I-I can't be sure," she said as she broke down and sobbed.

"You never told me that you had a lover."

"No. I didn't—didn't think."

"Why did he take the letter?"

"Oh, sir," sobbed the girl, "he wanted to go away and find work and earn money so that we could be married. It was a temptation. He must have taken it, but we'll pay it all back."

"And he loves you?" asked the inspector, with a lump in his throat.

"He does. I know he does, and it anything was to happen to Billy—"

When the inspector crossed the street to the inn Squire Davis was still in his office, hoping to hear that an arrest had been made.

"Well, will the girl lose her place and be sent to prison?" he asked as Graham came in.

"No."

"But why not? She certainly got my $50."

"You didn't lose $50. You lost only $10. You had that sent to you hoping it would be taken. It was taken, but not by Miss Jordan. Henry Williams is the one, and there's your money back."

"But, sir, I demand—"

"You'd better drop it, squire. You have lied about the amount, and the authorities at Washington know that you've been itching to be postmaster here. Just spread the news that you've got your money and let it go at that."

And when morning came Inspector Graham went back to the postoffice to say:

"Miss Jordan, that registered letter is all right. Squire Davis has received it. And now, as I shall ask to be changed to another route and may not see you again for years, I wish to bid you goodbye and wish you all the luck in the world."

CHAMBERLAIN'S LINIMENT

This is a new preparation and a good one. It is especially valuable as a cure for chronic and muscular rheumatism, and for the relief from pain which it affords in acute inflammatory rheumatism. Those who have used it have invariably spoken of it in the highest terms of praise. Lame back, lame shoulder and stiff neck are due to rheumatism of the muscles, usually brought on by exposure to cold or damp, and are quickly cured by applying this liniment freely and massaging the affected parts. Soreness of the muscles, whether induced by violent exercise or injury, is allayed by this liniment. For sale by F. L. Hinman & Co.

MURDERED SCHOOL BOY

Sunday, the Rhineland police received from the Superior authorities the description of a man wanted for murder at that city.

It was thought that the fellow was headed this way and the officers kept a sharp lookout for him. Chief Straub arrested one suspicious looking character but later released him. The real suspect, whose name is Chas. Sebtoski, was captured at South Range near Superior after a long chase by Sheriff Carlson and deputies. Sebtoski is accused of murdering Rudolph Nelson, a Superior school boy, the motive for the crime being robbery. When arrested the man had on his person a revolver the calibre being the same as the gun with which Nelson was shot.

MADISON LETTER

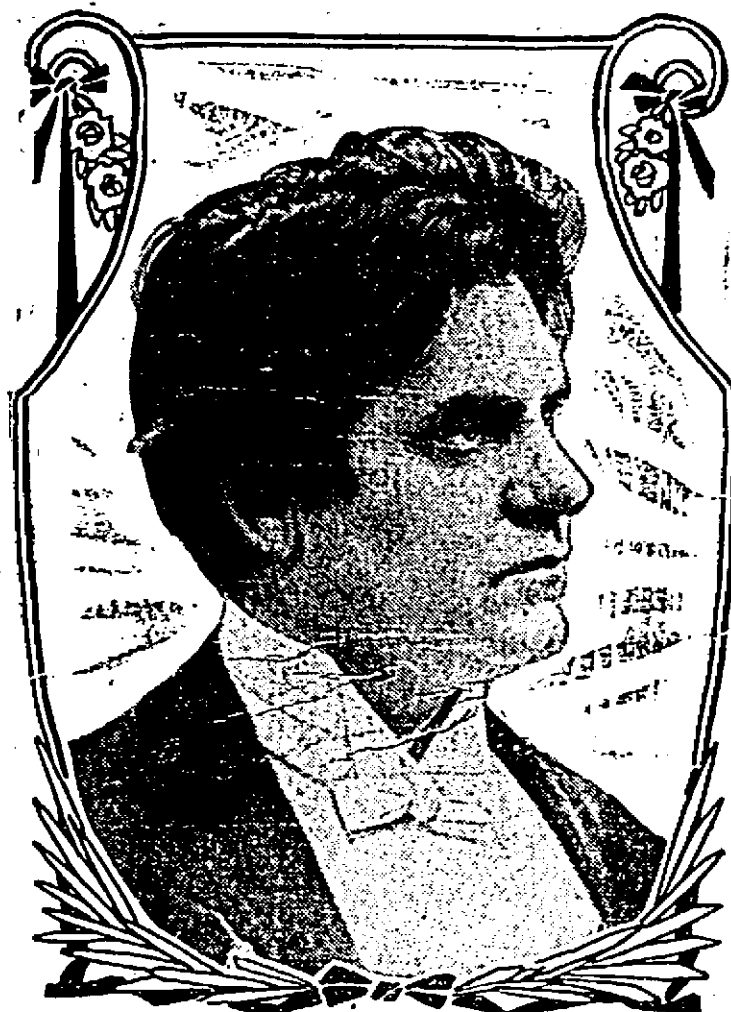

The joint resolution to submit to the voters the question whether a convention should be called to revise the state constitution was defeated in the assembly last week. This is the third time a similar resolution has been defeated by the legislature and the opposition always came from the special interests. They like the present constitution because it favors them in every way to the detriment of the majority. In the state of Oregon they are working the other way. There the constitution provides for Initiative and Referendum which are positive safeguards of the people's rights. Now the interests are agitating the question of calling a constitutional convention in the hope that they might be able to somehow pack the convention in their interest and omit the popular features which interfere with boss rule and machine legislation. In Wisconsin they prevent self government by opposing a constitutional revision and in Oregon they aim to knock out self government by revising the constitution.

The bill which will enable cities to adopt the commission form of government is in a fair way to become a law. It is a step in the right direction but it ought to be amended by adding a recall provision. Give the public the same control of its servants that an individual has; that is, the right to discharge them. It is a good remedy for machine politics and, in small communities, will generally effect a cure.

The investigating committee is nearing the close of its labors and will soon formulate its report. The assembly members of the joint committee have not yet made their report although they completed their part of the testimony long ago. They are evidently waiting to see what facts may be brought to light before they attempt to tell the legislature what they found. People will naturally disagree as to the weight of the testimony that has been presented. It will be asserted that no direct evidence of bribery was found, and this is true if by direct we mean open confession, but no one would be so crude at the game of bribery as to mention the word. Political bribery is quite different than other forms of bribery. It cannot be said that a man who is supporting Doe for a certain office and then changes his support to Roe on receiving money from the latter, is not bribed even though he declared he had "changed his mind before he took the money." This form of bribery is not uncommon and it should be discouraged.

A number of assemblymen have been subpoenaed by the investigating committee and it was reported Saturday some of them would plead their legislative privilege and refuse to be examined. They have a perfect legal right to do so but it will not add to their political standing in the state.

HEINRICH CONRIED, NOTED IMPRESARIO, WHOSE CAREER IS ENDED.

Heinrich Conried, the famous opera impresario, who died in the Austrian Tyrol, was born in Silesia in 1855 and was apprenticed to a weaver when he was a small boy. He was ambitious to become an actor and at the age of eighteen entered upon his theatrical career in Vienna. He already had gained considerable fame as a stage manager when he came to America in 1878. His first notable work thereafter was in staging operettas and musical plays at the Casino in New York. Then he went to what afterward became the Irving Place theater, which he managed with decided success for fifteen years. He took the reins of the Metropolitan Opera upon the death of Maurice Grau and held the post until last year, when he retired on account of failing health.

It is a frequent sight in the Soo yards here to see a long train of refrigerator cars loaded with nothing but butter bound for the East.

FISHING PROSPECTS GOOD

With the approach of the fishing season disciples of Isaac Walton are promised plenty of excellent sport in the lakes and streams of northern Wisconsin. The waters are said to be literally alive with the various species of game fish native of this section, including bass, pike, and the wily muscullonge.

Fishermen are looking forward with happy anticipation to the arrival of May 31 on and after which date the law allows them to take from the waters the above mentioned members of the finny tribe.

Proprietors of summer resorts in this northern lake region are preparing for an unusually active season.

GYPSY BAND VISITS CITY

A band of gypsies was in the city, Friday. There were several families in the outfit all huddled together in two small covered wagons. It was very evident by their filthy surroundings and the foul odors which prevailed about them that they were not believers in the use of soap.

The women canvassed the business places trying to get a little easy money telling fortunes but it is understood that they were not successful. The fortune telling graft is just a trifle too ancient to be played on the public and it will be necessary for these wanderers to work some new game before they can hope to catch any victims.
